To fulfil its mission, the Australian Defence Force must have the right information at the right time. EDS can help. After all, managing complex IT and C4I projects is what we do best. EDS has implemented and continues to operate the largest secure military network in the world. In fact, we are the single largest provider of IT services to the Australian Federal Government. Learn more at www.eds.com/gov or call our Canberra office on 02 6248 4555.
